Canadian Economic Dashboard and COVID-19

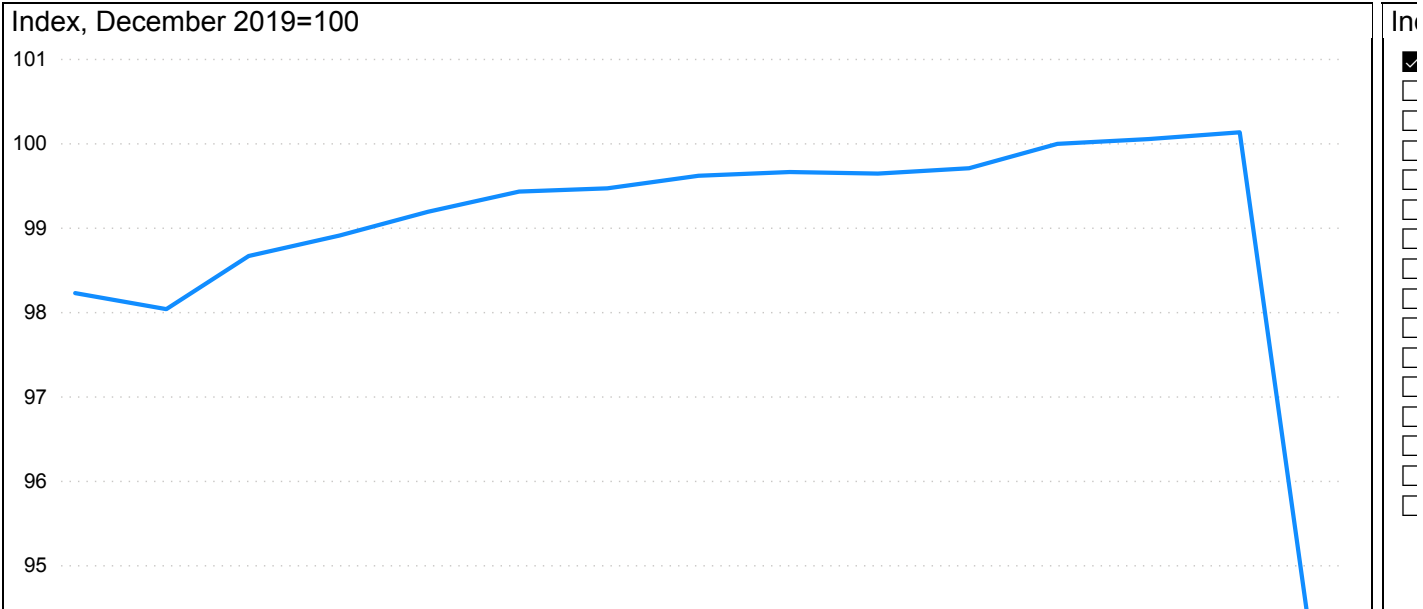

Release date: March 26, 2020

Weekly update - Friday, June 12, 2020

Declines in the value of financial assets pushed household net worth lower in the first quarter of 2020 as equities fell sharply in March in light of investor concerns over COVID-19. Household net worth declined 3.8% in the first quarter as the value of equity and investment funds fell 15.5%. The ratio of household credit market debt to disposable income rose to 176.9% in the first quarter, while the household debt-to-asset ratio increased to 17.3%.
